

My Friends

Wednesday, October 8, 2008 at 12:52am

My Friends, It is clear that we need to recognize the superiority of our importing skills, ingenuity and...hard work that our brothers and sisters continue to show the world that we mean business. Then, my friends, is when we'll make a difference, my friends.

Listen friends, I'm not going to go on like everyone else has in the past. This is different. I promise. I swear it. My opponent is a complete idiot, my friends, I wish you could see it as clearly as I do. He's had sex with terrorists, he hates you, and everything you stand for, my friends. He's voted 94 TIMES for KILLING BABIES. 94 TIMES MY FRIENDS!

It's time for change. I'm it. I'm not fucking around here. Really, ladies and gentlemen, it should be obvious. You see, I've been in this game before he was even in his upper class ivy league school. He hates regular people. I don't, I love you guys! Can't you see why I'm obviously the better man for the job? I was tortured every day for three months in a vietnamese prison, I KNOW perseverance! That's why I think war is AWESOME.

My friends, I'm not only "a" maverick - I'm THE Maverick. I've stood up against my own fucking party. I think they're all douchebags! And SHAME on my opponent for thinking so too! He hates our country! You see, I stand for traditional values, we need to stick to basics! We don't need "new" idas - that's why, my friends, you need to elect the same guys that got our great nation to it's current glory...we're different my friends!

Did I mention my experience? Friends, you want someone who has at least an ounce of fucking judgement as your commander-in-chief, someone who will judge hard and fast...like myself. This "talking with people and thinking it over" stuff is absolute, terrorist nonsense my friends. My friends, I would be the first to kick some Terrorist ASS! And I love our troops! My opponent hates them, my friends (pause for booing). This guy is an elitist who has no experience, unlike my partner on the Right side of the ticket, a gorgeous ex-mayor of THE BEST town of 927 Mavericks, Joe-Six-Packs, and regular ordinary countrymen who CARE. I care. I'm your man!

Once I move out of this guy's view of the teleprompter, I'll show my opponent that hard work will get you a hot, multimillion-dollar-beer-company heiress that ANYBODY can get if they work hard enough! It's our country's dream!

My friends! My friends! My friends! Maverickmyfriendsmyfriends Maverick!

-----

I can't believe I watched that shit. Maybe I should write for The Onion, those guys are among the few who restore my faith in humanity...

Cheers.

<http://andrewmanderson.spaces.live.com/>

Written about 5 months ago - Comment - LikeUnlike

You like this.

Jason Babineau at 1:25am October 8

huh? whadd'i miss? did Danny Williams addressed the nation? the Newfies. whatever.

Simon Landry at 1:58am October 8

You want to see a real Maverick in action? Go watch Top Gun.
That's my "political" opinion for this election.

Chances are I'd give teh same advice even if it wasn't elections though.